To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to thank everyone at Designated Drivers and the XFL for making my day at the XFL game worry free. I work for Skipco, Inc., and we had a tailgate party that started at 2:00 p.m. By game time, I was feeling pretty good considering that the beer and the food were free. I had never been to an XFL game before and being there with all my fellow employees seemed to really amplify the experience and fun.

By the end of the game when it was time to go home, I was responsible for myself and three friends. I saw the Designated Drivers logo and had recognized it from an interview I had seen on television for the Nascar event. I had never liked to take a taxi in the past because I would have to retrieve my car somehow the next day. I would have to call a friend or even pay for another taxi. I also hate leaving my truck anywhere for the fear that it might be towed or vandalized.

I was able to get home safely and wake up the next day with my vehicle in the driveway. I want again to thank the XFL for their forethought to take care of the fans and putting on a good game. I would also like to thank Designated Drivers for putting up with some very happy people and getting us home safely without killing anyone or going to jail. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ed Harper
